W. D. Vincent Asks For a Series of Joint Debates.

Challenge Ignored by the Republican Managers.

The serenity of the congressional campaign in the Fifth district has been disturbed by a challenge from W. D. Vincent, the fusion nominee, for a series of joint debates with Congressman Calderhead, the Republican nominee for re-

Up to date Mr. Calderhead has ignored the challenge, which was issued as a personal letter, under date of October 20, at Clay Center, as follows:

The letter was probably received by Mr. Calderhead Saturday or Sunday, and his managers have not made public their reply if any has been made. The Reublican politicians are laughing at what they term "Vincent's effort to get crowds by saking Calderhead to divide the time with him."

It was stated in Wall street that the bank affected with the First National; that the employe was named Alvard, and that the defalcation will reach a large amount, possibly $500,000.

Officers of the bank refused information this afternoon but promised a statement covering Alvard's wrong doing later.

The man has not yet been arrested, but will probably be apprehended before long.

The First National bank is one of the largest banking institutions in the city and its president is George F. Baker, who is also president of the Astor National bank and a financial advisor of the Astor family. The bank is located at No. 2 Wall street and has a capital of $500,000, a surplus of $4,000,000.

Their instructions are to create all the noise possible, to cluim every thing in sight and to offer all kinds of money on the results of the election, but when they are pinned down to wiggle out of it, if possible, and in no case to bet a cent, if it can be avoided.

"It has been amazing to me to find that this cheap and absolutely pointless performance has actually caused some of our fellows to feel downhearted and discouraged. These offers to bet Republican services are all afraid to bet the inverse and there all over the state are scattered little local healers who have a graft on Mark Hanna's slush fund to offer all kinds of money on the result of the local healers who have a graft on Mark Hanna's purposes. engravings which rank first among the engravings of the world. Perhaps the best one is of Shakespeare by Flameng. The other two are of John Stuart Mill and Alfred Tennyson by Rajon.

One of the most beautiful engravings in the collection is the "Destruction of Ninevah" by Jazet after Martin. This picture will have to be looked at closely to be fully appreciated. But upon close observation it may be seen that the shadings and light effects are magnificent while every detail is worked out distinctly.

One engraving in particular is realistic to a nicety. It is entified "The Village Politician." It portrays a young man arguing with an older head, evidently trying to convince the older man of his point. The old man is shown as in a brown study setming to weigh every utterance of the young man. A number of others are scattered here and there in the room apparently anxiously awaiting the decision of the sage.

Another engraving which comes in for a great deal of attention is the "Last Supper" by Morghen after DeVinci which has a prominent place near the entrance to the rooms. This engraving is copied from one of the twelve most famous paintings the world has known. The original was almost ruined by being subjected to rough handling when a band of Roman soldiers broke into the room where it was hanging.

Another beautiful engraving is that of "Christ Before Pilate" by Waltner after Munkacsy. This is one of the most valuable etchings in the collection and is really considered a gem in art circles.

Will Pay Balance of $1,700 Due to Supreme Court Today.

As an off-set against the Frank Grimes sult inspired by Democrats information has been given out by the local managers of the Republican campaign to the effect that ex-United States Senator John Martin, Democrat, retired as clerk of the supreme court in favor of It was announced that Mr. Martin had paid last December $1,700 of the sum and had paid in February $600, making a total of $2,300, leaving a balance of $1,700

"I was informed last Friday," said Mr. Martin to a State Journal reporter

"I was informed last Friday," said
Mr. Martin to a State Journal reporter
this afternoon, "that there was still due $1,700. Although this amount by no means agrees with my bank book and my records yet the books in the office of the clerk of the court showing the amount of money received indicate the difference of $4,000, which I have accepted as correct and am paying.

"I have paid $2,300. I will pay the balance, $1,700 probably this afternoon,
because I have the money to do so.

"Last Friday my attention was called to the balance due by Mr. Valentine. I told him I would pay it yesterday. Mr.
Valentine went to Clay Center and was not at home yesterday when I went to Rossville to keep an engagement which I had there. I just returned from there today and will pay the sum due at the supreme court this afternoon."

The fund in which this discrepancy exists is not a part of the money belonging to the state but represents the moncys paid in to the clerk of the court of costs or fees belonging to officers of courts and sheriffs in counties where the cases originated.

An explanation of this fund is more easily made by reference to the costs taxed in favor of the sheriff. ntil the case is finally decided by the supreme court the sheriff's fees follow and are pald according to the judgment of the court. These payments are usually made into the supreme court where final settlement of costs is made, so the cierk of the supreme court becomes a custodian, or an officer holding funds in trust and it is from money so paid to him that Mr. Martin's deficiency occurred.

curred.

Mr. Martin's accounts with the state, Mr. Martin's accounts with the state, fees collected on cases in supreme court, were correct when he retired from office. Every cent was accounted for. New York, Oct. 22.1—In order to check the upward trend of values, the mony lenders have begun the old game of jungling with rates. Whether they will be able to stem the tide of bull semiment by resorting to this old trick, is very doubtful. Some of the more timid traders may take fright at the margin for call money, but the many influential operators who are working on the bull side will not be disturbed. It is a good many months since a 5 per cent rate was quoted for money in Wall street. Cheap money has held sway so long that every fittle fractional advance in the rate is taken advantage at to raise the cry of "lear money." The supply of funds is more than sufficient to meet all requirements and while this state of affairs exists there need be no apprehension in money. The market presents a very vigorous appearance. Speculation is broadening and the feeling is quite general that stacks have started upon a big advance. The unexpected buying by London and Berith has stimulated focal bull sentiment and laddeed several large traders to buy stocks notwithstanding the fact that they have been operating on the opposite side of the market for a long time. The sudden re-MARSHALL'S TONIGHT.

Will Make Their Bow in New Uniforms at Auditorium.

The energetic work of the committee having in charge the complimentary concert and benefit to Marshall's band in the Auditorium, this evening, deserves success for the event. The sale of tickets, as far as reports are obtainable, has been gratifying. There was a brink demand for tickets at the box-office today, also by those whose engagements can not be laid out far ahead of time.

Considering the character of the entertainment, no attempt has been made to reserve seats. An admission ticket gives the holder privilegs to select any seat in the house. The Auditorium has additioned the concern and the holder privilegs to select any seat in the house. The Auditorium has additioned a seat of the entrainment to attempt has been made to reserve seats. Chicago, Oct. 22.—WHEAT-Wheat has lost another cent today and long stuff has been sold out by disgusted hoders. There has not been any important news to help values but on the contrary everyibling seemed to be or a bearten mature. Cables were weak and considerably lower. There was but little cash demand and the hows from Argentine was to the effect that so damage had sa yet been done, Bradurest's report on world's visible. the nows from Argentine was to the effect that no damage and as yet been done, Bradstreet's report on world's visible showing increase of little over two multions was looked on as arring card, but no support came in way of buying orders. Wheat, has had good break, the traders are looking for for wheat and we are looking for for wheat's extreme weakness. October was off over a cent fraten being credited with letting go his holdings in all positions. December was in excellent demand on the decline and a great many buying orders falled of execution. Now corn is being sold quite freely for November shipment, and provided weather is favorable, present prices are time enough. Any continued wet weather, however, will make it difficult to lift contracts. The market will be influenced mostly by the weather.

OATS—Only were lower with the longs changing from the nearby to the deferred futures. The out mead people are seiling October and buying May at he difference. There has been some liquidating of December. The public and private stock is a militan bushels, the largest, possibly, our row 150 cars.

FROVISIONS—Provisions have been comber. The planes in right, possibly, or a million bushels, the largest, possibly, or rich rd. Receipts 800 cars, estimated to morrow 150 cars.

PROVISIONS - Provisions have been weak with Lipton probably the best retier. There has been commission house silling. Armour is credited with purchases of November land. Suppose of pr. duct fair. Hogs in the west 61.00 against 68.000 last week and 72.000 last year.
